CHURCHMANSHIP IN LITIGATION

PUSHING
BOYCOTT
ON MEAT

WOMEN MEAT-Weat ceremonial law, as to be, a story or one slaughtered by cutting the throat
and being thoroughly bleached,
and carefully examined for all signs
of disease or infection.

The committee of women directing the boycott of meat in the West End, as a result of which retailers have closed their shops, today passed a resolution to circulate to Jewish families of the city in an effort to make the strike citywide.

An appeal to the Jewish women
of Boston in their own homes.

You are doubtless aware that a strike against the high price of meat has been declared by the residents of the West End. This strike is the result of a condition which has kept most of our Jewish women,
mothers with babies and with children,
underfed.

To enable you and everyone of us to obtain better meat for the family at a reasonable price, we are going to join with us in this strike for cheaper meat.

Help us, and thereby help yourselves, by refusing to buy meat under the present exorbitant prices exacted
by the Red Trust.

Mrs. Eva Hoffman, head of the committee, declared it was planned to seek a warrant for the arrest of a wholesale dealer with selling meat. Mrs. Hoffman declared, "No. 10 Spring street, in a strike against."

Pickets were out all night to guard against the possibility of meat being smuggled from the shops after the
they were supposed to close.

Then a movement on foot to have every kosher shop in the city close its doors and the West End retailers are ready to put up the shutters. If they are convinced that there are other parts of the city will do likewise.

WIFE ASKS POLICE
TO FIND HUSBAND

Mrs. Edward Fenn of No. 17 Greenwich, has asked the police to assist her in finding her husband, who disappeared Monday noon. The couple came to this city from Brooklyn, N. Y., three weeks ago, and Fenn put employment as a dress maker at No. 140 Broadway street, where it was said he drew his pay yesterday morning.
His employers said he was known to them as Schultz. The young wife is on the verge of a nervous collapse.

Romance of Evelyn Scotney Singer Returns Here to Wed

Brain Scotney, the young soprano of the Boston Opera House, and her husband, a handsome of the chorus, are back to America to marry. They are to marry New York the month of the month on the Holland-American line.
Thwarted in their attempt to marry in France, Mrs. Scotney and White decided to embark at sea in America and be able to enjoy their home
before the beginning of rehearsal
for the Winter opera season.
Just where the couple will be married is a matter of conjecture. The ceremony may take place at the home of Mr. White in Providence, or in New York when the couple arrives. It is possible Mrs. Scotney may marry at the home of her father, a ceremony on the high seas. The captain of the ship on which they are returning can, under maritime law, marry the couple after the ceremony has passed the three mile limit.

White, who comes from a leading family of Providence, R. I., was just entering the field of opera as a singer when he met Mrs.
Scotney. He fell in love with her at first sight.

Both were strangers in Boston. Mrs.
Scotney came here from her home in Australia by the way of London.

White, a native of Providence and a graduate of Brown University, set out to be a lawyer. The son of a well-known physician in Providence, he decided, at finishing his education, to start in a strange city. He chose Pittsburgh, and there he practiced law for a time. Then his remarkable voice began to attract attention. From singing in some of the smaller churches of Pittsburgh he advanced rapidly until in a year or so he was the soloist in the leading church choirs. Then his voice earned a chance for him with the Boston Opera Company.

He came to Boston, taking an obscure part in the chorus of the grand opera at one of the largest churches in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Scotney's attention was attracted to his "Maid to Australia" and she made him a debut in the chorus of the opera company. From that time Director Russell was convinced that Mrs. Scotney would justify his confidence.

When Mrs. Scotney and Mr. White decided to marry at sea. They decided that they could be married in the company of a few friends of theirs in the Grand Opera company and then they were going to tour over Europe, visit Switzerland and the Alps and then take a trip over to England.

Just right in the midst of their happy
planning, could news be from and crew downed. The someone who were in the company would not permit a marriage when they wanted it. They would have to wait and it might be a month or more. They were then coming home.

No Pay in Navy, Only I. O. U.'s After July 1

Eighteen hundred civilian employees at the Charleston Navy Yard, along with thousands employed at all the other navy yards in the country, will, on July 1, 1912,
have the alternative of losing their jobs or working without wages. This is the effect of an order made today by the navy.

The order affects the many navy. Commissioned officers and enlisted men of all branches, beginning July 1, will not receive salaries, but must consider the sums due them as debts owed by the government.
The trouble is caused by the failure of Congress to pass a naval appropriation bill.

KILLS HIS BRIDE OF FIVE WEEKS

PROVIDENCE, June 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth Maria Perin, twenty-two years of age, and a bride of five weeks, was shot and instantly killed by her husband, Henry F. Perin, on Valley street, Sunday, June 24, when she was on her way to work a few minutes after the shooting Perin gave himself up to the police. He said "I had to do it."

At noon Perin was arrested in the Sixth District Court before Judge Williams on a charge of murder. The plaintiff, who had forced him to sell her, Perin was held without bail for the night. According to the information Perin made to the police, he and his wife spent one domestic trouble some after their wedding five weeks ago. She went to live with her father, William H. Hildreth, at 100 West Main, Providence. On the left the house to day to go to work Perin met her, and after a few words drew his revolver and killed her.

"My Present
Clothes Values Are Setting a New Standard"

There have been Clothing Sales by
the thousand in Boston, but never until
this Sale was announced
have clothes of the character
of these GEORGES
CUSTOM MODEL GAR-MENTS sold for so little.
Even I never offered values nearly as great. My position a few weeks ago
when, on account of the rainy Spring and a national business depression I was actually facing the CRISIS of MY CAREER,
simply forced me to make reductions that would compel buying. I've passed the crisis now, but through the splendid support of five great cities the reductions remain, establishing a new standard of Clothes values. Take, for example—

MAYBE!

By MORTON BIRGE

Maybe you've noticed it, maybe not,
Maybe it slipped your mind,
But while they are settling the nation's fate,
And stating of any old kind of weight
Are striking their butt-out convention gait—
Maybe you've noticed, maybe not,
Maybe you haven't thought—

But you're getting up with the morning sun,
And steaming along till your work is done,
The same if your candidate lost or won—
Maybe you've noticed that,
Maybe you've noticed, maybe not,
Maybe you hadn't time.

An awful excitement—the world intent,
You read and discuss all the news that's sent,
Has all of the politics paid your rent—
Maybe it has—NOT!
Just upon there weren't any politics,
Just upon conventions and such was nix,
Maybe we'd be in a terrible fix—
And maybe—NOT!

WOMEN RESCUED AT FIRE BY POLICE

Two men were injured, one woman was seriously injured, and several women were carried down by ropes and ladders, during a fire which imperiled the lives of a dozen people, early today in the four-story brick building at No. 1287
Washington street, South End.

But for the timely discovery of the fire
by a passerby, several persons might have been burned to death before the fire apparatus and police could respond to the alarm.

The EVENING AMERICAN, concerned
to advertise the lowest reduction by far of any date since the fire, and over $100,000 more than all the other Boston events previously combined. Circulation makes up to all.

SAND SMOTHERS BIG TAR BLAZE IN STREET

It took several tons of sand today to put out the queerest fire the Boston firemen ever tackled in front of a new building at Dudley and Meridian streets. A candled of pitch, boiling over, started a blaze, which quickly spread, lighting traffic and sending sheets of flame into the air. When the firemen arrived they "regarded" sand
from nearby houses until the fire was smothered.

SENDS BULL MOOSE TO COL. ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, June 25.—Colonel Frederick Hale of Maine will send a big bull moose to Sagamore Hill this week, and in-dubitably, so the Colonel's supporters expect, it is to be the emblem of the new Republican party. Many of the Boston's newspapers in New York are displaying their entire back numbers, the emblem of the party. All the Colonel's associates at the clubhouse office purchased red neckties.

11 DAYS FOR PRINCESS RACE

By THE PRINCESS EDITOR.

The last eleven days?

The AMERICAN's great "Princess" contest is nearing a close. For the candidates and the friends of candidates to put in their last, best effort.

There is one thing to which the Contest
Editor desires to call the attention of every candidate.

On next Sunday, June 26, a new list of votes standing will be published and it will be extremely dangerous for candidates who are well up on this list to say to themselves: "What is the use of busting an head now? I am one of the leaders and the race is almost over."

Don't look by overconfidence! How do you know what the other candidates are doing just now?

You never can tell what some candidates
may do on the last day of the race.
There is just enough time left for any candidate, even the last man on the list
to get right and win the Princess Prize.

Candidates are hereby notified that all votes printed in the AMERICAN on and after Saturday, June 23, will be valid after July 15. This gives candidates one week only after contest close to collect and turn in coupon votes.

Miss Edith Brown Edwards of 32 Eastman street, Dorchester, is a "Princess" candidate who is a strong believer in votes for women. Don't let her friends say:

Princess Contest Editor, Boston AMER-ICAN.

Sir:—We have entered as a candidate, Miss Edith Edwards, "Dor-chester's Young Suffragist" in the Princess contest now running in the AMERICAN. She is a woman of the word and to prove it she has only just entered the contest and pulling strong. No need of questioning her possibility for in the Princess contest run in 1909, six were to be chosen, and Miss Edwards came in at the finish, seventh, being by a small margin.

The Dorchester boys are the hating vote getting crowd that's doing its best to make Miss Edwards finish in first place.

Sincerely yours,
THE DORCHESTER BOYS.

FLAMES SPRING UP IN A STREET CAR

A fire beneath the flooring of a North Street-Broadway Extension car, which was outward bound along Washington street recently, created considerable excitement among passengers, several of whom were wondered at the cause of the flames. The car was switched off to South street. The flames had eaten away the flooring beneath the second and third seats. A still alarm called the fire department, and a few buckets of water put the fire out.

EDITH B. EDWARDS, DORCHESTER GIRL IN PRINCESS RACE

Commons in Uprear on Suffragette Issue

LONDON, June 25.—There was a remarkable demonstration in the House of Commons today when Premier Asquith was interrupted on the subject of suff-ragettes in Holloway jail. Lord Hugh Ogilby, Timothy Healy and other members appealed to the government to release
the suffragettes from the military suffrage
who are doing time for smashing property.
The Premier replied that the government was willing to release them if they would give their word not to commit any further violence. Landis, a favorite, joined in his dissent and declared that no such agreement should be entered.

At this juncture there was a great disturbance outside on top of desks, stamping and shaking their feet. Speaker Low-ther was powerless to quell the din. Sir Augustine Birrell who has been assaulted several times by violent suffragettes, laboriously climbed to the top of his desk, where he delivered an impromptu speech.

"You call yourselves gentlemen!" he declared in a quivering voice that was barely heard above the racket; "yet you forcibly smother women. It is the most disgraceful thing that ever happened in English history. You will go down to posterity as murderers of innocent women."
The Speaker finally made himself heard and ordered Landis from the chamber.

ST. PAUL'S WILL BE FREE CHURCH

What are YOU kicking about in this case?

Think of Albert S. Bigelow.
He's got to pay out nearly $2,000,000
that he didn't want to pay out.

This is the largest sum ever awarded a plaintiff by the courts of Massachusetts.
Bigelow, lawyer an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, is ordered to pay this to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

This case has been in litigation for six teen years. It arose from the sale in 1895 by Bigelow and Leonard Leighton of New York of the Old Dominion Copper
Company to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company. The O. D.
C. M. & S. paid $2,000,000 for rights and $750,000 for the land. The plot of land of leased areas has diminished from 150 to 30. Daniel Webster was a new-holder case. Trustees of the New estate have paid most of the church bills for ten years past.

The Democrats Are at Baltimore with a Very Big Crowd and a Very Great Opportunity

A young man in a big hotel lobby carries, high above his head, a small hound puppy, and the crowd sings the song about "The Houn' Dawg." Poor puppy has probably a low opinion of men.

This man is a candidate, or he is the accredited representative of a candidate sitting at the other end of a telephone wire, feverish, anxious and alert.

Will they choose a candidate worthy to be called a Democrat, working with the people, for the people? Or will they justify the cold-blooded boast of the corporations that are well represented here, and that say, "When it is all over both candidates will be ours, and the people will be fooled as usual" ?

"Back to the old home for the present, but look out for this bull moose next November."

How a Few Minutes a Day May Add Years to Your Life

Many common ills get their start through unsanitary conditions of the mouth. Tooth pastes and powders often to blame

Odol-izing the Mouth Safeguards the Health

The world is just waking up to the tremendous importance—the vital influence on health—of perfect mouth hygiene.

That is where the germs of dreaded contagions like diphtheria, influenza and tuberculosis, and the germs of catarrh and similar affections always make their attacks.

The mouth and throat are the gateway to the lungs, to the stomach, to the whole internal system.

And if left to the mercy of the dangerous microbes and other impurities which daily besiege them—and which utterly defy the usual tooth-brush precautions—the health is in constant peril.

It is plain—as any doctor or dentist will tell you—that by proper hygienic protection of the mouth, throat and teeth—that by daily putting the mouth-invading enemies of health to rout—that one's life can in all probability be lengthened.

A Twenty-year Advance in Care of Mouth and Teeth

Odol-izing is a twenty-year advance in the care of the mouth and teeth. Yet it takes only a minute or so a day.

It is the easiest way in the world—and the most effective and pleasant—safeguard the mouth, teeth and throat against everything which can attack them.

Odol is the most delightful and thorough antiseptic and germicide for the mouth and teeth ever discovered.

It is in Odol. Reaches every part of the whole mouth—reaching the hard-to-get-at places clear to the throat—by means which ordinary dentifrices shirk.

It routs out all bad, harmful acids and ferments, no matter where they happen to hide. No foes of the mouth, throat or teeth can escape it. Neither can any of the impurities which poison the breath.

Keeps Mouth Clean for Hours

Odol neither evaporates nor washes away in the saliva.

Unlike all other dentifrices and most mouth washes, the antiseptic power of Odol is not confined to the few moments you are using your brush. It retains its microbe-destroying effectiveness for hours.

Even if the mouth is merely rinsed or gargled with a few drops of Odol in a little water—without the aid of a tooth-brush

IT HAS BEEN SAID that a young girl in New York is the only one in the world who can play all the keys of the piano in the morning till tea time at night. Perhaps this is not true, but the fact is that Miss Helen W. Hart, who is now fifteen years of age, is a pianist of unusual talent. She has been playing since she was three years of age, and her father, Mr. J. H. Hart, is a well-known pianist and composer. She has been playing for many years, and her talent has been recognized by the public and the press. She has given many public performances, and her playing has been described as "marvelous" and "beyond compare." She is a member of the New York Musical Association, and she has been awarded many prizes for her playing. She is a very popular pianist, and her playing has been described as "the most beautiful and perfect I have ever heard." She is a true artist, and her playing is a joy to all who hear it.

ALL his team unfortunate because the "Naps" would not release him to another American League club. He could not play his own professional baseball because of the "Naps" refusal to let him go. He had to go to the "Naps" camp and so on and so forth.

A black and white illustration of a man from the waist up, wearing a dark suit jacket over a light-colored shirt and a dark tie. He has short, dark hair and is looking directly at the viewer with a neutral expression. His hands are at his sides. The style is a simple line drawing, typical of mid-20th-century advertising.

End of the First Day of the Democratic Convention

Only negative results. Bryan's failure to defeat Parker and the closeness of the vote seem to indicate that Clark's position is stronger and that opposition to him, if successful, might mean party suicide.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—One speech and one important vote constitute all of the first day's proceedings of the convention. The speech was made by Bryan, opposing the selection of Parker as temporary chairman.

The vote and roll call of the convention overcame Bryan's opposition and personality, and Parker was chosen temporary chairman.

After two sessions, one long and one short, the day's proceedings ended.

Today it is believed that Mr. Clark's already great strength has been considerably increased, and that interests which had planned to push him aside in favor of a reactionary candidate will make no serious effort to carry out the plan.

Candidates of different kinds most seriously mentioned as opposed to Clark have been mentioned very little.

The powerful interests that saw in the Republican split a chance to nominate and elect a Wall Street Democrat have begun to see the situation more clearly.

They are not the type to give up a plan hurriedly, and they may still be struggling in secret for the nomination of some man who will "come running" when they ring the bell.

If they are still planning a corporation candidate, however, they are doing it privately. There is little open talk such as you heard yesterday about putting in the right kind of a Wall Street man and electing him, "while Taft and Roosevelt kill each other off."

Predictions, of course, are foolish in politics, and shall not be made here. Just at this moment, however, it is mere statement of fact to say that Clark is ahead as a candidate.

In the estimation of this newspaper Clark represents, intelligent, efficient, progressive radicalism.

Two Enemies of Us All

On the Road to Success Almost Every Man Meets These Two Enemies: CONQUERING VICE and SLOTHFUL PROCRASTINATION. Few Succeed in Passing Them.

Copyright, 1912, by American Journal-Examiner.

Readers, this is such a commonplace, obvious sort of an editorial that you will perhaps be impatient in the reading of it. Nevertheless, at the risk of seeming tiresome and fond of platitudes, we propose to discuss the enemies of mankind and the possibility of conquering them or avoiding them.

Ninety-nine out of every hundred human beings may be called FAILURES.

A man may do fairly good work, he may make a success in comparison with his fellow men, and yet be A FAILURE.

A man who fails to do THE BEST THAT IS IN HIM is a FAILURE, whatever he may do, no matter how he may impose upon the world with his work.

Of all the failures you have known, can it not be said that VICE or PROCRASTINATION might account for every one of them?

"VICE" is a name that covers many human weaknesses.

Drunkenness is a vice—one which viciously suppresses, DROWNS the very force, THE MENTAL UNREST THAT OUGHT TO BRING SUCCESS.

Self-indulgence is another vice. It takes us devote our energies in the present to our various tastes and likes, instead of controlling the present in order to provide for the future.

Vanity and egotism in all its forms are vices. The vain man wastes, in self-appraisal, in the decoration of his person, or in foolish self-confidence, the time, thought or money that ought to be spent on improvement.

Then there are all the other vices—foolish, perverted forms of human energy—that tear men down and make real growth and accomplishment impossible.

Gambling, drink, love of display, lack of moral purpose—all these vices, positive or negative, meet mankind on the road toward good results; only a few get by.

Many a man able to control the actively vicious side of his character is destroyed by laziness, by the peculiar hatred of effort so hard to overcome in millions of us.

The world is full of men and women who seem intelligent, WHO MIGHT SUCCEED, and yet go plodding along in their little clerkships or other little routine place, BECAUSE THEY LACK POWER TO FORCE THEMSELVES OUT OF PROCRASTINATION'S RUT. They expect to begin the struggle SOMETIME, but the time never comes.

Which of these two enemies of mankind is responsible for the greater number of failures?

LAZINESS, lack of will power, is, in our opinion, man's most dangerous enemy.

Vice in a man is often only ENERGY GONE WRONG. If the man can direct into channels of effort power which he has been wasting in vicious self-indulgence, success will come to him, and the monster of vice will be passed and left behind.

Slothfulness, procrastination, laziness are harder to get out of the system than vice.

They mean, unfortunately, very often AN ABSOLUTE LACK OF ENERGY.

And that is a thing that should be borne in mind by all of the good, ordinary, average, well-meaning, well-behaved people THAT CANNOT "SEEM TO GET ALONG."

You have got to kill the vice that stands in your way. You have got to KNOW that it is there, and then fight it, realizing that UNLESS YOU CONQUER IT IT WILL CONQUER YOU.

When you have rooted out the viciousness in your disposition then go to the laziness, which is slow and sleepy and can wait until the vice is killed.

What do you need in any kind of a fight? YOU NEED A GOOD WEAPON.

In a fight against yourself you need the one great weapon, which is WILL POWER.

WILL POWER—the force which makes possible repeated, determined, steady effort—is the only thing that will help you in life's fight.

There are those that say that we cannot change ourselves, that we must always remain as we were made, with our weaknesses and our strength as at the beginning.

BUT THAT IS FALSE.

A man CAN change himself. The drunkard in the gutter can

He Never Had a Chance

That is what nine men out of ten who are failures say. Look out that you don't say it yourself.

No. 13.

Sleep to Yum was just as delicious as it was to the next one.

He had no feather pillows nor comforts. The little box in the corner of the cafe was enough. Yum slept there unnoticed many a night while men in the saloons played cards and shot dice. Yum could do neither, as his finances were always extremely low.

When he was a kid, of course, he shot "crusoe"

as long as the next one. When he managed that fighter he'd bet as much as the next one, but those days were gone. The rosy path that Yum saw at that time had turned to one of thorns and cobwebs. He figures now that there never was a chance and never would be for him. He was one of those guys who were born unlucky and couldn't shake the jinx, so he—just let things slide and lived the best he could.—BY TAD.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

THIS AUTO AND THE HORSE

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—Having noted your short editorial, "The Automobile Will Make Us More Human," I cannot refrain from writing to thank you for it. The great thousands of the average human being, being to think because the horse has a will of his own and is patient and most of all, he is forced to endure this lot makes it doubly trying to a considerate and sensitive owner. But you can not get that out of me. I do not thank God from the bottom of my heart that they have been bred and are being adopted for mercantile purposes. Pray write more frequently about the sufferings of the horse. Sincerely,

SWATTING THE FLY

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—The AMERICAN is receiving the praise of the medical profession for its campaign for a war on flies. The insignificant fly is one of the worst disease-carrying insects in the world, due to its countless numbers and the fact that it comes everywhere and alights on all kinds of filth.

The public will have to be educated to this point, and, thanks to the AMERICAN, the movement has gained good headway in Boston. F. C. B.

COMMENDS THE AMERICAN

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I want to warmly commend your way of reporting the great threatening crisis that has been holding forth at Chicago. I believe I have read every issue, every word, and have been about the "dubious" in the Lake City, and I honestly believe I know more of what actually happened out there than a whole lot of persons on the ground, and all it has cost me is a good day.

Good Society—of What It Consists

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1912, by American Journal-Examiner.

MUCH has been said in the Press of late of the latest revision of "Society Lists"; and of the decision of the censor that a certain number of people (something like 46%) are eligible to "Good Society."

Without doubt, this matter has caused many a heart burn; and hours and days and weeks of this brief, beautiful life have been wasted in unhappy thoughts and useless rebellion by men and women (women, mainly) who imagine satisfaction would be found in seeing their names in this society list.

Yet any one with the power of calm reasoning and clear judgment needs only to read the well-known FACTS concerning the large majority of the people who comprise that society to understand how far away from the "Land of Happiness" they wander.

Happiness can only be obtained in this life by efforts at self-development; by common sense development of living; by the cultivation of the unselfish qualities within one's nature; by making oneself useful to others; and by being satisfied to DO ONE'S LIFE WORK WITH TOOLS AND IN THE PLACE GIVEN BY CIRCUMSTANCES.

No matter in what position you find yourself, the first step toward the "Land of Happiness" must consist in a resolve to BECOME THE BEST KIND OF INDIVIDUAL POSSIBLE IN THAT POSITION.

Remember Always That Fate Is Only Yourself

After you have accomplished that, a better position will open to you. And your next step will be to attract to you the position. But you can never get yourself for that better place by sitting in sullen anger, or wasting your energies in rebellion against the wall which fate has placed around you. Remember, always, that Fate IS YOURSELF.

No angry God is showing favoritism for one and neglect for another of his children; has given some other a place of honor and power and you a place of toil and trouble.

We have all lived in many forms; in many bodies; in many places.

And we have fashioned our own destinies by our thoughts and actions. The position in which you find yourself today is the result of your own thoughts and actions in the past lives.

And it lies in your power to change your position and change your present sphere of action until you are fitted for something much better. But you can not get that out of me. I do not thank God from the bottom of my heart that they have been bred and are being adopted for mercantile purposes. Pray write more frequently about the sufferings of the horse. Sincerely,

That is the work given you to do. If you are a woman, with a home, a husband and children, do not let the petty and foolish ambition to enter "Smart Society" spoil your life.

You to lose one hour which might be given to occupations and pursuits which would make you a better wife, mother or home beauty.

There is a woman who has been a lovely home, and a husband who has been respected among men. He married his wife for love; but she has driven cupid from the door by her incessant striving

She Has Sacrificed All for a Vain Ambition

She has made no effort to be a companion to her husband; no effort to render her home a restful and happy centre for a whole family and cultured circle of friends. Her whole energies have been employed in a useless striving after what she could not obtain: a leadership in fashionable circles.

Her face has grown hard and fretful; and her companionship is not agreeable to anyone.

In her lovely home, clothed in costly garments, she seems like a richly upholstered velvet box, which contains only paste gems.

In this great age of opportunity for women, it seems strange that so few women seem to regard the making of an ideal home as a desirable occupation.

Once such a home is established, where good will, amiability, helpfulness, culture, accomplishments, economy and comfort, must and should be maintained, and where simple hospitality, are to be found, there is no censor, no society dictator, who can prevent that home from becoming a CENTRE OF GOOD SOCIETY.

Agreeable and desirable people will be attracted to a clever delicate woman who has a home of this kind. Good society does not necessarily consist of people of large wealth, of titles, of pedigree.

It consists of people who have good manners, and good morals; good brains, and good ideals.

In America it is possible to make a name for oneself in any locality. Instead of striving to be a leader in some circle where extravagance and dissipation, and personal jealousies and intrigues, and air like miasma in a swamp, how much more sane and sensible to work toward the establishment of a social centre, where the aristocrat and the commoner, the good and the bad, and good behavior can meet and find inspiration in the association.

Your work does not lie in any position, but in a decided here to do for which seems difficult for you to reach.

Your work lies right about you. It is here, and now, that you can make your personality felt; your influence known.

And if you do this, no power on earth can prevent you from the real enjoyment of really "Good Society."

We must first find our spiritual selves; which is "The Kingdom of Heaven Within."

Then working from that outward, every thing will be added to you.

And the Kingdom of Heaven Within is found by developing the old-fashioned virtues of unselfishness, and tolerance, and charity, and faith, and adding culture, and accomplishments, and good breeding and the power to be entertaining.

The merely good and unselfish person is a decided bore to his fellow creatures, unless he does add those more worldly qualities.

Some Things You Must Do to Develop Yourself

No one, however spiritual, has a right to neglect the grammatical, logical, proper voice placing, the refinements of deportment, or the graces of conversation; which consist in being a good listener, and in leading others to talk, rather than in talking one's self.

And to be pleasing to the eye is another requisite of the selfish man and woman; for when the eyes of the ear and mind and heart are not easily pleased.

When one does all these things to make yourself a well rounded and admirable character, you will never lack for good society.
